

To achieve our vision to be Asia's premier education resource centre, we continuously pursue global ventures and partnerships with reputable educational organizations. We aim to facilitate, through cross-cultural exchange of intellectual knowledge and experiences between our Singapore educators and their overseas counterparts, collaborative tie-ups in the form of training, consultancy and research activities.

With our strong connections to established partners and universities in the region and beyond, PAI serves as the world's education gateway to Asia. Capitalizing on our strong connections and networking in Singapore and the region, we aim to generate value by making available Singapore's expertise and leadership in education to our overseas clients. These joint ventures only enhance the education environment, but also mutually beneficial to both parties as well.

We constantly seek to collaborate with established universities, institutions and education-related organizations, allowing us to strengthen our position in the provision of quality academic programmes, training and resources to the region. In exchange, by providing our prospective partners with unparalleled insight into Singapore's education environment, PAI acts as a conduit in the forging of new opportunities and connections in Singapore and the region.
